Letter from the President

Joyful Renewal & Exceptional Support of the Girls of Greater Boston

Dear Members and Friends:

The Junior League of Boston is proud of our place as the premier women’s leadership and service organization in greater Boston. As the second oldest Junior League in the nearly 300-league Association of Junior Leagues International (AJLI), we are grateful to those who came before and made our current Community Service and Leadership Training impact possible.

In 1958 Junior League members purchased our building at 117 Newbury Street. By the early 2000s the building had become out of touch with current non-profit needs and design best practices. For nearly ten years members planned a full building restoration, which was undertaken over an 18 month period. The 2014-2015 year saw the Certificate of Occupancy achieved in July of 2014 and the mortgage retired in May of 2015. Importantly, the building was designed to be a home for non-profits around the region, with wired meeting space and board rooms whose shared use ties us closely to the organizations and causes who share our focus of the wellness of girls, developing tomorrow’s confident, healthy women leaders.

As you review the Annual Report, we are proud to show growth in all areas. You will see growth in Membership, growth in net assets, growth in hours of service devoted to the wellness of girls, growth in leadership training, and growth in our Community Program offerings. The net result is a powerful Community Service impact.

Thank you for your support and your service.

Warmly,

Valerie Pontiff
President 2015-2016
The Junior League of Boston, Inc.
“Training is one of the foundations that sets the Junior League apart from other volunteer organizations. Not only do members have the opportunity to contribute to the community, but they can avail themselves of training opportunities specifically designed to develop the potential of volunteers. This promotes not only leadership development within the League, but also within the other volunteer organizations and employers with which our members are affiliated.”

Kimberly Garner Parker, Director of Training 2014-2015

JL Boston Hosts Regional Training for other Junior Leagues

The Junior League of Boston maintains a deep commitment to expertise in training members and the general public to serve on non-profit boards, write grants, speak publicly in support of our Community Program focus, and achieve fund development excellence vital for non-profit growth.

On March 7, 2015, JL Boston hosted a regional training for Junior League members in New England and Northern New York. Delegates from these leagues joined JL Boston in our newly renovated headquarters for a full day of training and idea sharing.

Serving the Underserved Population in the Great Boston Community

Girls who have been through JL Boston programs are more likely to raise their hand in class and speak with confidence. Studies show that pre-adolescent girls, ages 9-13, are at an influential age for issues of health and empowerment. With that in mind, JL Boston aims to serve this demographic.

Gift of Faith Thayer Solloway

A long time Junior League member and supporter, Faith lived on Beacon Hill during the 1950s and early 1960s while enjoying a career as a social worker in the Boston area.

Faith graduated from Milton Academy in 1939 and Boston University's School of Education in 1951 and Boston University's School of Social Work in 1952.

Faith passed away July 15, 2013, at Sentry Hill in York, Maine. She was 92. The Estate of Faith Solloway left a $20,000 gift to the Junior League of Boston which was gratefully accepted during the 2014-2015 year during the time of estate settlement.

In addition to the Junior League of Boston, Faith embraced the Junior League ethos of philanthropy through support of Greater Boston charities, including The American Red Cross and the United Way.
